NEW HOME FOR TERP HOCKEY

The premier, state-of-the-art Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex seats 1,400 spectators and meets the highest field standards of the F.I.H., field hockey's international governing body.

Opened in 2003, Phase I of construction on the fan-friendly facility features a high-performance, water-based nylon Astroturf 12 playing surface and a remote watering system. Phase II and III of the project are expected to include a full concourse level plaza with restrooms and concession areas as well as team locker rooms.

In 2004, the facility was officially designated a Regional USFHA training site and became the home facility of the U.S. Under-21 National Team and the Summer League squad Tidewater Tempest.

2004 Terrapin Outlook

Expectations are running high for this year's Terrapin field hockey team. Coming off of a 20-4 season, an appearance in the 2004 NCAA Tournament semifinal game and with nine starters returning, including four All-Americans, Maryland is poised to make a serious run for its sixth ACC crown and fourth national title.

"The goal is always to win championships," said head coach Missy Meharg. "Players choose to be student-athletes at Maryland because they want to be in a position to experience ACC and NCAA Championship events," said head coach Missy Meharg.

She continued, "To reach those goals this year, we are focused on maintaining a high spirit throughout the three and a half months. We look to challenge each other on a daily basis and individually bring a high work rate to practice in order to improve our teammates' performances.

"Maintaining a high, positive spirit and attitude and challenging each other daily, from the coaching staff to the players and those surrounding Maryland field hockey will put us in a good position to reach our goals."

The 2004 squad could arguably be one of the greatest teams to ever play in College Park. Playing on the state-of-the-art Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex which saw the Terps go 13-1 last season, the Terps will look to the leadership of six seniors who have garnered numerous conference, regional and national recognition.

"We have six seniors who are awesome. They are amazing people who stand tall in the classroom and on the field. Kristin Harris, Sara Silvetti, Colleen Barbieri, Emily Boyer, Anja Boettcher and Meredith Long have given their hearts and souls to Maryland hockey. I am confident they will leave their mark on the field in their final season. They are great mentors to the six newcomers."

ATTACK

"This year's attacking style will be exciting for Terrapin fans to watch. We return players who have the ability to score goals," said Meharg.

Maryland brings back a high-powered attack which scored 92 goals last season, fourth in the nation. Tallying at least 15 goals each last year, the team's top four scorers in Paula Infante, Anja Boettcher, Jackie Ciconte and Colleen Barbieri return this season.

Infante made the immediate impact expected at the beginning of last year. By season's end, she led the team in scoring as a defender and was one of the NCAA's top players, earning first team All-American honors, first team all-region honors and was named All-ACC and All-NCAA Tournament team at the Final Four.

Entering 2004 in the top 10 in goals in the Maryland record books, Barbieri looks to get back to top form from her first two seasons in a Terrapin uniform when she collected a first team All-America citation. Heralded as the ACC's Rookie of the Year in 2001, she brings speed and is another potent scoring threat with the ability to play a variety of positions within the attacking unit.

Ciconte broke out for a standout season and looks to build on it in 2004. She more than doubled her goal output from her freshman campaign. The most efficient scorer on the team last season, her success on the field was rewarded with All-America and All-ACC nods.

Senior Anja Boettcher has tremendous technical skills which she brings to all areas of the field. Second on the team in scoring a year ago, she played both attacking and defensive roles in the spring and will have an impact on both sides of the field this season.

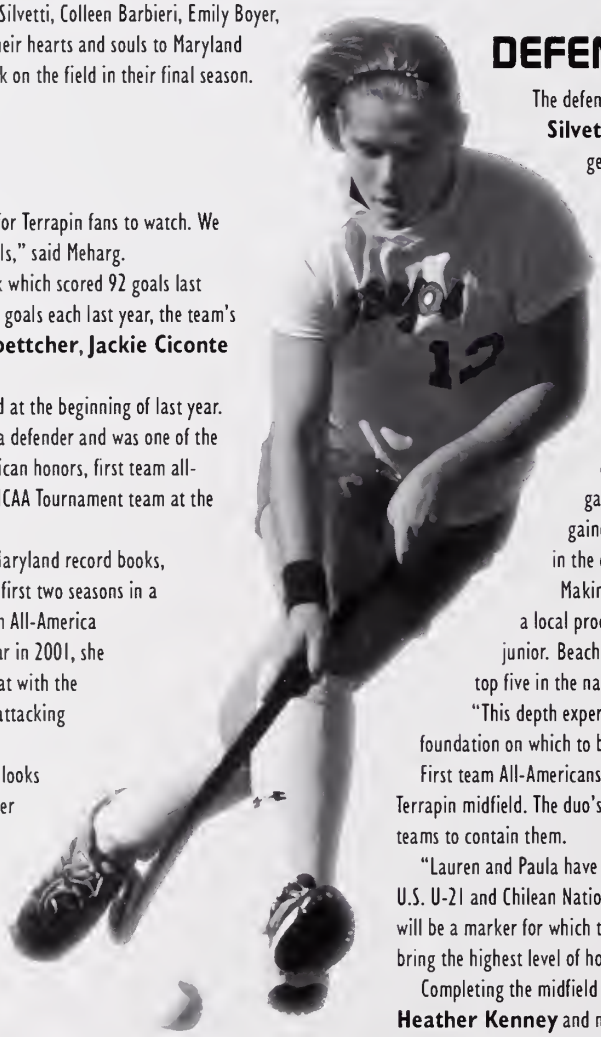
Junior Tiffany Marsh has been a solid starter for the Terps since arriving on campus. Last year, she started every game in the midfield and scored the game-winning goal in the overtime win at North Carolina. This year, she will play a more offensive role and use her outstanding finishing abilities to score goals.

Meharg will also look to senior Meredith Long to assist in the attack. A transfer last season, she gained valuable experience, playing in every game while starting in three.

Sophomore Lauren Foundos saw limited minutes but played well during the spring season. Classmate Megan Fox, who has good attacking moves, also has some experience under her belt as does a speedy Emily Trycinski. Each will compete for playing time on the attack.

Two freshmen should find themselves in the mix of this potent attack. A forward, Kim Ziegler was one of the top players out of the state of Maryland and hails from the same high school as former Terp Kateri Simon who was an all-regional selection in her final year.

Freshman Janneke van Leeuwen has played top-level field hockey in her home country of the Netherlands. Having played the sport since she was a youngster, she is an attacking midfielder who will be a valuable commodity to the Terps.



Paula Infante

DEFENSE

The defense brings back talent, depth and experience. Senior captain Sara Silvetti will be, without a doubt, will govern the defense as the field general in the backfield. Classmate and co-captain Kristin Harris will cover the defense from the midfield. A starter on the field since coming to College Park as a freshman, she is a leader on and off the field and has an unmatched work rate. Also playing in her final season at Maryland, Emily Boyer has been a consistent defender, spending the last two years as a regular starter in the backfield. The three senior defenders earned Mid-Atlantic All-Region honors and will be the cornerstone of the Terrapin defense.

Sophomore Kristina Edmonds spent her rookie campaign as a defensive replacement, earning playing time in games vs. Michigan, Duke and in the national semifinal. She also gained valuable experience playing with some of the elite young talent in the country as a member of the U.S. Under-19 team.

Making her first appearance in a Maryland uniform is Emily Beach, a local product out of Bethesda-Chevy Chase High School and a redshirt junior. Beach will be ready to help the Terrapin defense which was ranked in the top five in the nation last year.

"This depth experience yields confidence in our defensive unit and gives us a solid foundation on which to build the attack," commented Meharg.

First team All-Americans Lauren Powley and Paula Infante will power the Terrapin midfield. The duo's speed, athleticism and intensity make it difficult for opposing teams to contain them.

"Lauren and Paula have played exceptional hockey, not just for Maryland but also for the U.S. U-21 and Chilean National teams, respectively. They will set the standard for the team and will be a marker for which their teammates will be measured. They are incredible athletes who bring the highest level of hockey to the college game," said Meharg.

Completing the midfield unit, along with van Leeuwen and Fox, are redshirt junior Heather Kenney and newcomer Katie Mockus. After transferring from UMass, Kenney redshirted last season due to an injury and brings a contagious, hard-working attitude. Mockus comes from a nationally ranked program in Medford High School in New Jersey. Both will compete for playing time.

High expectations are waiting for newcomer Linzi Jones. A sophomore, she is an exciting player who brings plenty of international experience and will compete for a spot in the backfield. Rookie Kendall Beveridge out of the state of Maryland will also vie for minutes on the defense.

GOALKEEPING

Protecting the net will fall on sophomore Christina Restivo and incoming freshman Kathryn Masson. Restivo played the best game of her career in her first-career start against Old Dominion, a 3-2 Maryland win on Oct. 18, 2003. Restivo also made a career-high five saves in that game. She went on to have an outstanding spring and summer. At the U.S. Field Hockey Summer League, she helped the Tidewater Tempest reach the league championship game against the U.S. U-21 team.

"Christina is ready to play and Kathryn has played at a high level in her country of Canada. Between the two of them, I know our goal is well defended. They both have high work rates and it is exciting to have two great goalies in the program," said Meharg.

The six new faces joining the team come with a lot of talent and will be relied upon to contribute at all positions and to the team's goals of winning another ACC and NCAA title.

"This is a strong recruiting class which will be worked into the system quickly. All come to College Park with high aspirations and expectations, academically and certainly on the field. It is an honor to have the six of them here," said Meharg.

SCHEDULE

Maryland looks ahead to another tough schedule which will prepare it for the challenges that come when a team is looking to win a national title.

Opening the year in New England for the second-straight year, Maryland faces future ACC opponent Boston College on Aug. 28, followed by a matchup with Boston University the following day. Closing out the weekend, the Terps face Harvard in an exhibition game on Aug. 30. All three games will be played on the Crimson's turf.

Opening the home slate is the highly-anticipated clash with Old Dominion on Sept. 4. The Terps then return to Norfolk, Va., to close out the home-and-home series on Oct. 15.

"We enjoy our series with ODU. Beth Anders is back to coaching on a full-time basis and she is a tremendous coach," said Meharg. "Old Dominion is always tactically and fundamentally well prepared. Playing them in early September and again in October has proved to be a quality learning experience for our program."

Following a Sept. 5 game at home vs. Drexel, Maryland hosts the annual Terrapin Invitational, Sept. 11-12, with American, Northwestern and UMass completing the foursome. The Terps are undefeated in the seven-year history of the tournament.

Closing out a five-game homestand, the Terps host nearby foe Towson on Sept. 14. Maryland has never lost to the Tigers and it will be the first meeting since the year 2000.

A tough three-game road stretch begins up Interstate-95 when Princeton plays host to the Terps on Sept. 17. Two days later, Delaware will be welcoming Maryland on its field.

There will be little rest for the Terps. The road swing ends with the team opening the ACC schedule at Wake Forest on Sept. 25.

The ACC has separated itself from the rest of the country and is the best field hockey conference in the country. Four of the five squads were ranked in the top four in the nation, including the Terps, and three advanced to the national semifinal game. It will be another vigorous race for the conference crown.

ACC action for the Terps continues after a brief stop at home to play Quinnipiac on Sept. 26. Maryland will then travel to Virginia on Oct. 2.

The Terps will play its final two ACC games at home with Duke visiting on Oct. 9 and North Carolina on Oct. 23.

In between, Maryland hosts cross-town rival American (Oct. 3). The weekend of Oct. 15 will be another challenging road journey for the Terrapins who will travel to ODU then go out to Ann Arbor, Mich., for the first time ever to face Michigan, the only non-ACC team to make the final four last year.

The regular season comes to a close with James Madison on Oct. 29 at the Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex. It will also mark the final home regular-season game for the Terps' six seniors.

The ACC Championship will be at the site of the NCAA finals and two-time defending champion Wake Forest will host both events. Maryland will have the advantage of having played on the field during the regular season and hopes that advantage will lead them to a sixth conference title. The ACC crown will be determined Nov. 4-7. NCAA Tournament action begins Nov. 13 and 14 when first and second round play begins. The semifinals and championship games will be played on Nov. 19 and 21 in Winston-Salem, N.C.

With the hard work and sacrifices put in by the returning players and the addition of six talented newcomers, Meharg is looking forward to a successful 2004 campaign.

"We had a successful spring season leading up to the summer. Our players had strong individual performances at the U.S. Field Hockey Summer League. Their level of commitment, sacrifice and excitement gives us a great platform from which to start the year. We want to be sure the team is playing quality hockey on a daily basis, challenging each other in a positive way. We are well prepared for this senior class to make a strong run at their first national championship."

Head Coach Missy Meharg

DELAWARE '85 • 17TH YEAR AT MARYLAND

Four-Time National Coach of the Year
Eight-Time Mid-Atlantic Region Coach of the Year

At the helm of one of the top field hockey programs in the nation with a rich winning tradition which has captured three NCAA titles and reached the national semifinals nine times, Missy Meharg enters her 17th season as head coach of the Maryland Terrapins.

Meharg could be thought of as a coach who has guided the Maryland field hockey program to two NCAA titles and seven national semifinal appearances. She might be referred to as a leader who has won five Atlantic Coast Conference championships, directing the Terrapins to four-straight titles from 1998-2001. She could be recognized as a motivator who has been named the National Field Hockey Coaches Association National Coach of the Year four times, most recently in 2001. She might also be known as a mentor whose student-athletes have garnered 64 All-America citations on the field and 139 ACC Academic Honor Roll awards outside the lines. Further, she could be seen as an instructor who has developed 35 players who have competed internationally, including three of her former players who are currently playing at the highest level with the U.S. National Field Hockey team.

Though Meharg's numbers are extraordinary, Maryland's leader, now in her 17th season, is much more. As gifted an educator as she is a coach, Meharg recognizes the ability of athletic competition to teach life lessons. The mentor emphasizes the characteristics of sports that can be used as a vehicle to develop successful lifelong qualities.

"Empowering student-athletes to develop character traits that transcend athletic performance can shape the manner in which the athletes approach everyday life experiences," says Meharg.

"A successful life . . . lends the opportunity to be a national champion. Keeping hockey fun is vital."

Meharg has played an integral role in all three of Maryland's national championships. She was the head coach for the program's last two titles (1993 and 1999) and was an assistant coach during the Terps' first run to the national title (1987).

Accolades have come in the form of four NFHCA Coach of the Year awards (1991, 1993, 1999, 2001), four ACC Coach of the Year honors (1992, 1995, 1998, 2001) and eight Mid-Atlantic Regional Coach of the Year citations for Meharg. She enters the 2004 season 11th on the NCAA Division I all-time coaching victories list with 264 wins in her 16 seasons. Last year, Meharg guided a young squad back to the NCAA Tournament semifinals and a ninth-consecutive NCAA Tournament despite the addition of 10 newcomers while returning six starters.

During her tenure at Maryland, she has been involved in all facets of collegiate field hockey. She currently serves on the NCAA Mid-Atlantic Regional Advisory Committee. She has coached 35 players who have competed on the international level, including 13 that have represented the United States on the senior national team. In 1996, Meharg served as an assistant coach as former Terp All-American Kate Kauffman-Beach and the U.S. squad competed in the Olympic Games in Atlanta.

The Terps have been represented in the Olympics, the Pan American Games, the World Cup, the Olympic Qualifying Tournament and a host of other international competitions. Last year, former Terp All-Americans Kauffman-Beach, Dina Rizzo and Keli Smith participated in the 2003 Pan American Games in August in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, as members of the U.S. National Team. Current All-American Paula Infante participated in the games as a member of the Chilean National Team. Kauffman-Beach, Rizzo and Smith also played integral roles in the U.S.'s disappointing sixth-place finish at the Olympic Qualifying Tournament in Auckland, New Zealand.

Meharg's collegiate playing career was nearly as successful as her coaching career is now. She was an All-America forward at the University of Delaware, where she also played lacrosse, from 1981-84. Meharg was a Honda Award nominee in field hockey in 1983, the same year she was named MVP of the East Coast Conference after leading her team in goals, assists and points. The Blue Hen hockey team reached the NCAA championship semifinal round when she was a sophomore in 1982, and Meharg's lacrosse squad won the national championship the following spring.

Did You Know?

- Since the NFHCA began recognizing the National Coach of the Year in 1990, Missy Meharg's four awards (1991,1993, 1999 and 2001) are the most for any coach at the college level.
- Leading the Terps to NCA titles in 1993 and 1999, Missy Meharg became one of just five coaches in Division I history to have won multiple national championships in field hockey, joining Beth Anders of Old Dominion (9), Karen Shelton of North Carolina (4), Diane Wright of Connecticut and Jennifer Averill of Wake Forest.

Meharg enjoyed an impressive seven-year playing career with the U.S. National Team from 1985-91. During that time, she was a member of the 1986 World Cup team and an alternate to the 1987 Pan American and 1988 Olympic teams. She capped her playing career as a member of the 1991 Pan American team and the 1991 U.S. squad that unfortunately missed qualifying for the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona.

Meharg is an accomplished and experienced coach on the international stage. She was a member of the U.S. National Team's coaching staff from 1993-1997, which included her appearance in the 1996 Olympics, the 1994 World Cup in Dublin, Ireland, and the 1995 Pan American Games in Argentina. In 1994 and 1995 she served as the head coach for the U.S. Under-21 team. After a hiatus, she returns for her second tenure with the U.S. Field Hockey elite level program, participating in A-Camp in 2004 as a coach. That same summer, she acted as head coach of the U.S. Field Hockey Summer League All-Star team that played the National Team.

During her career, Meharg has been extensively involved with teaching in the U.S. Field Hockey Association Coaching Certification Program. She has completed two different certification programs, entitled "Olympic Solidarity" and "Preliminary Coaching," which are directed by the Federation of International Hockey (F.I.H.). Meharg enjoys doing color commentary work for television and has worked a variety of sports, including field hockey. She recently completed her third field hockey coaching video and is one of a few coaches in the field to produce the product.

Meharg earned a bachelor's degree in health and physical education from Delaware in 1985 and her master's degree in sports psychology from Maryland in 1989. She is the mother of two sons: 13-year old Andre and 12-year old Eugene who attend Severna Park Middle School in Severna Park, Md.

Andrew Griffiths

ASSISTANT COACH
W. ONTARIO '95 • RYERSON '98
SEVENTH YEAR AT MARYLAND

After a stint as an assistant coach with the U.S. National Team, Andrew Griffiths returns to the Terrapin sidelines for his fourth season as an assistant coach. The international mentor and former Olympian supervises external operations for the field hockey program, including marketing, media and facility management, while focusing his coaching on the Terps' offense and attack penalty corners.

"Andrew's knowledge of hockey comes from a combination of international experiences," said head coach Missy Meharg. "He's competed in the Olympics for Canada and in two World Cups. He's played from the sweeper position all the way up through the forward line and can teach skills for all positions on the field."

A 1995 graduate of Western Ontario University, Griffiths' coaching resume includes the head position at the helm of his alma mater from 1990-93. He helped guide the Mustangs to their first-ever Canadian top-10 ranking during his final season.

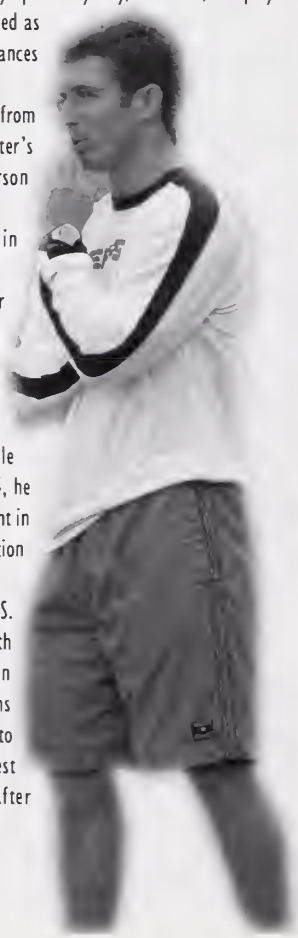
Griffiths was a member of the Canadian National Field Hockey Team from 1989-2000. He helped his squad to a 10th-place finish at the 2000 Olympics in Sydney, Australia, and played in the 1990 and 1998 World Cups as well. Griffiths served as the squad's captain from 1992-94, and made appearances at the Pan American Games in 1991, 1995 and 1999.

The coach earned a bachelor's degree in English from Western Ontario in 1995, before obtaining his master's degree in journalism in 1998 from Toronto's Ryerson Polytechnic Institute.

Griffiths has risen to a new level of involvement in U.S. hockey in the last two years.

From 2003-04, Griffiths reunited with former Terrapin All-Americans Kate Kauffman-Beach, Keli Smith and Dina Rizzo as an assistant coach in residency with the U.S. National Team. Serving under Old Dominion head coach Beth Anders, Griffiths accompanied the Stars & Stripes on tours of Spain, Chile and Argentina in 2003. In February and March 2004, he joined Team USA at the Olympic Qualifying Tournament in New Zealand where the team narrowly missed qualification losing to Korea for the final Olympic berth.

In 2004, Griffiths served as head coach of the U.S. Field Hockey League's Tidewater Tempest. Along with Maryland head coach Missy Meharg and former Terrapin assistants Stephen Simpson and Ange Bradley, Griffiths led the squad to the championship game where it lost to the U.S. Under-21 team in penalty strokes. The Tempest ended the competition as the to regional team after defeating Southern Charm in the semifinals, eliminating the Charm from the league finals for the first time in six years.



Griffiths was named director of the U.S. Field Hockey's B Camp in 2003 and 2004 and was responsible for writing the skills curriculum and overseeing the selection process for A Camp. He also developed the curriculum for A Camp in January where he worked as a team coach,

Griffiths was the co-founder and editor-in-chief of the international field hockey website, planetfieldhockey.com from its inception in 2000 to 2003. He has co-authored a book on field hockey drills titled "Coach Hockey."

TERPS CULMINATE SEASON AT NCAA TOURNAMENT SEMIFINAL

Terps Make Ninth National Semifinal Appearance

Despite its youth, with just one senior on the squad, the Maryland field hockey team returned a core group of players from the 2002 squad. The experience paid off and the Terps played like veterans, reaching the national semifinal game for the ninth time in school history while collecting just the fourth 20-win season all-time.

A member of the nation's toughest field hockey conference with four of the five teams ranked in the top five in the country, Maryland ended the season ranked third overall, going 20-4 on the year. The Terrapins dominated the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament, winning both games by a combined score of 7-0, including a 5-0 thumping of No. 7 Penn State, en route to Amherst, Mass. However, the Terps were denied the opportunity for their fourth national title by Duke (4-2). The team's only losses came at the hands of Duke and national champion Wake Forest.

With its run to the NCAA Tournament semifinals, Maryland improved its all-time postseason to 28-14 (includes a 3-1 performance in the 1979 AIAW). The Terps have earned NCAA Tournament berths the last nine years in a row and garnered 17 overall national tournament appearances. All four 20-win campaigns have come under the direction of Terrapin head coach Missy Meharg. After guiding Maryland to its second and third national titles (1993 and 1999), Meharg joined only Old Dominion's Beth Anders (9), North Carolina's Karen Shelton (4) and Connecticut's Diane Wright (2) as mentors with multiple national field hockey titles.

Jackie Ciconte

New Home for Terp Field Hockey

The 2003 campaign was also about getting a new home for the Maryland field hockey squad. The brand new, state-of-the-art Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex is one of the premier F.I.H. (International Field Hockey Federation) facilities in the world and is home to the Terps and is the official training site for the U.S. Under-21 team. With Phase I of the project complete, the Terrapins played on the new surface with stadium seating enough for 1,400 fans. Maryland was virtually unstoppable on the new turf, going 13-1 on the season, including two NCAA Tournament matches.

Meharg Reaches Milestone

With Maryland's 7-0 victory over Pacific on the second day of the Terrapin Classic, head coach Missy Meharg captured her 250th-career win. In 16 seasons at the Terrapin helm, Meharg has compiled a 264-85-9 record. She became the program's all-time winningest coach during the 1998 campaign when she picked up her 153rd career victory. During her time in College Park, Maryland has made 14 NCAA Tournament appearances, reaching the NCAA semifinals seven times and winning the national title twice (1993, 1999).

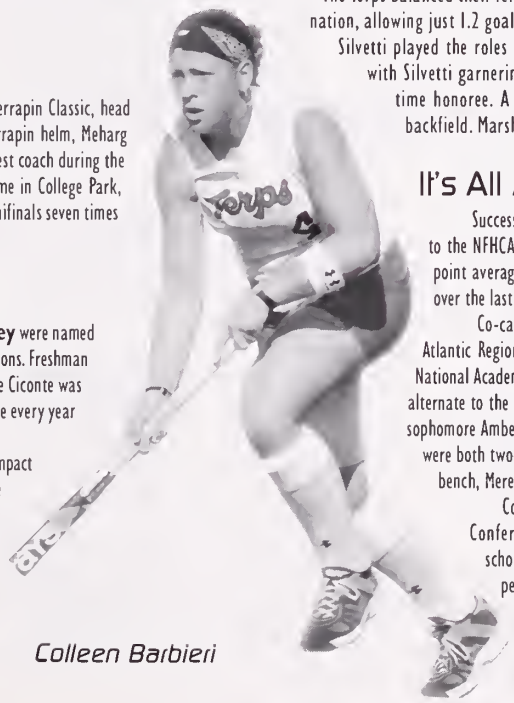
Three Terps Named All-Americans

Terrapins Jackie Ciconte, Paula Infante and Lauren Powley were named to STX/NFHCA All-America teams, boasting Maryland's all-time total to 63 selections. Freshman Infante and sophomore Powley were named to the first team, while sophomore Ciconte was a second team selection. The Terps have also had at least one first team honoree every year since 1987 and and at least two since 1991.

In her first season in a Maryland uniform, Infante made an immediate impact on both ends of the field, leading the team with 19 goals and 45 points en route to first team honors. The 19 tallies is tied for the seventh-most scoring total in school history. A defender, Infante was a significant contributor to the Maryland backfield which was tied for fifth in the nation in scoring defense (1.20).

A third team selection in 2002, Powley was touted as one of the top sophomores in any sport in the nation when she was featured in the Sports Illustrated on Campus "Faces in the Crowd." After not recording a point in 2002, she was second on the team with 14 assists, scoring two goals on the season.

Ciconte earned her first national honor when she was named to the second team. In 2003, she almost tripled her scoring effort from the previous season, tallying 17 goals which was third on the team. She was also third with 37 points and tied for second with four game-winning goals.



Colleen Barbieri

Chart Climbers

Junior Colleen Barbieri recorded her 100th-career point in the NCAA Tournament game vs. Penn State and now has 105 overall, just six points from 10th place on Maryland's all-time career list. Her two-goal outing in the NCAA Tournament semifinal put her in 10th place on the career-goals list with 45, passing Christine BeBow who tallied 42 career goals from 1994-97.

Barbieri played in 23 contests last season, starting 17 games. A first team All-American in 2002, she was named second team All-Mid Atlantic Region by the National Field Hockey Coaches Association in 2003 after scoring 15 goals with three assists and 33 points.

Sara Silvetti

Seven Earn All-Region Honors

With the success of the 2003 Maryland squad, seven Terrapins earned Mid-Atlantic region honors by the National Field Hockey Coaches Association. Junior Emily Boyer, sophomores Jackie Ciconte and Lauren Powley, and freshman Paula Infante were selected to the first team. Juniors Colleen Barbieri, Kristin Harris and Sara Silvetti and sophomore Tiffany Marsh were all picked second team.

Maryland boasted one of the best offenses in the nation. Ranked fourth in the country, the team's offensive punch increased significantly from the 2002 season. Scoring at a rate of 3.8 goals per game, the Terps were led by Infante's 19 goals and 45 points. Ciconte almost tripled her scoring effort from the previous year, accounting for 17 of the team's 92 goals on the year. Barbieri notched her 45th career goal, tying for 10th in the Maryland record books, with the help of her two-goal effort in the NCAA Tournament semifinal game.

The Terps balanced their ferocious attack with a stifling defense that was tied for fifth in the nation, allowing just 1.2 goals per game while recording 10 shutouts. Co-captains Harris and Silvetti played the roles of field generals from the midfield and backfield, respectively, with Silvetti garnering regional recognition for the first time. Harris was a second-time honoree. A defender, Infante scored many of her goals coming out of the backfield. Marsh and Powley solidified the Maryland transition along with Harris.

It's All Academic, Too

Success for the Terps has also come in the classroom. Four players were named to the NFHCA National Academic Squad for having attained a 3.3 minimum grade point average through the fall semester of 2003, upping the number of honorees over the last five years to 37.

Co-captain and midfielder Kristin Harris who was selected to the All-Mid Atlantic Region team, is also a biological sciences major and earned a spot on the National Academic Squad for the third-consecutive year. Sophomore midfielder and an alternate to the United State Under-21 team Tiffany Marsh (Letters and Sciences) and sophomore Amber McQuillan (Secondary Education), who has a junior academic status, were both two-time selections. A junior transfer and a significant contributor off the bench, Meredith Long was named to the squad as a philosophy major.

Co-captain Sara Silvetti was also a recipient of the Atlantic Coast Conference's James-Corrigan-Weaver Postgraduate Scholarship. The scholarships are given to 26 selected athletes across all sports and have performed with distinction both in the classroom and in their respective sports, while demonstrating exemplary conduct in the community. A junior, Silvetti was named to the All-Mid Atlantic team and is a public and community health major.

Maryland 3
UNH Wildcats 0

AMHERST, Mass. - Maryland jumped out to a 5-0 halftime lead en route to an 8-0 victory over New Hampshire to open the 2003 slate at Garber Field on the campus of the University of Massachusetts. Six different Terps scored at least a goal as Paula Infante leading the way with two and one assist.

Maryland controlled the action for the majority of the contest, taking a 17-0 shot advantage in the first period alone. Colleen Barbieri wasted no time giving the Terps their first lead, scoring just over a minute into the game.

Twelve minutes later, Jackie Ciconte pushed the UMD lead to two, followed by an Anja Boettcher tally, her first goal as a Terp, making the score 3-0. Infante's back-to-back goals swelled the lead to 5-0.

The second half continued much of the same way. In the first seven minutes of the period, Maryland tallied two more times, with goals coming from Sara Silvetti and Kristin Harris.

Barbieri closed out the Maryland onslaught, netting the final goal off a rebounded shot in the games final minute.

The eight goals were the most scored for Maryland since defeating Rutgers, 10-0, on Oct. 7, 2001.

Maryland 7

AMHERST, Mass. - The Terps cruised to its second-straight victory of the season, defeating Massachusetts, 7-0, at Garber Field. Anja Boettcher recorded her first-career hat trick, while Maryland registered its second-straight shutout.

Continuing what it had started in the 8-0 season-opening win against New Hampshire, Maryland poured on the offense early, taking a 2-0 lead with back-to-back tallies from Boetthcer within the first four minutes of the game.

After the first two quick tallies, the game went scoreless for 27 minutes until Paula Infante ended that streak with an unassisted goal.

Before the first-half horn went off, Sara Silvetti knocked one into the back of the cage on a penalty corner, making the score 4-0.

Ten minutes into the second half, Boettcher scored her third goal of the match, extending the lead to an insurmountable 5-0 lead. Jackie Ciconte broke out for a career-high two goals in less than a minute, putting UMD ahead, 7-0.

Maryland dominated both ends of the field, again, allowing just two UMass shots for the game and none in the first half. The Minutewomen were also limited to just one penalty corner in the contest.

UMass goalkeeper Christine Tocco faced 42 Terrapin shots and turned away 21. Maryland keepers Tori Cano and Christina Restivo combined for the shutout.

Maryland 6
Quinnipiac 0

AMHERST, Mass. - The Maryland field hockey team closed out its opening weekend in Amherst, Mass., with a 6-0 win over Quinnipiac at Garber Field. The Terrapins swept all three games over the Labor Day weekend, outscoring their opponents 21-0 to start the season 3-0.

"The defense made a real strong statement this weekend, allowing just four penalty corners [over three games] and shutting out all three teams," commented Maryland head coach Missy Meharg about the Terps' defensive performance to start the season. "It shows the defense has good communication and organization. We are looking forward to playing Old Dominion."

Maryland took care of business early, taking a 4-0 halftime lead. The Bobcats were able to hold off the Terps for almost five minutes to open the game, but sophomore Jackie Ciconte broke through for Maryland's first goal.

ACC Player of the Week freshman Paula Infante's goal was sandwiched between two Sara Silvetti penalty-corner goals and Maryland jumped ahead, 4-0.

Redshirt freshman Lauren Foundos recorded her first-career goal 15 minutes into the second period, putting Maryland ahead, 5-0. For the second time in three games, Infante tallied twice in a match, weaving through traffic in the 53rd minute to score the unassisted goal.

"Maryland played with a lot of discipline and established its' lead early while they worked on the zone defense," continued Meharg. "We had ups and downs throughout the game, but overall, I am very pleased with the intensity they had today."

Maryland peppered Quinnipiac goalkeeper Erin McKay with 24 shots while making 10 saves. The Terps out-cornered the Bobcats, 10-1.

"This is a tough team to beat on any day. Historically, this has been a tough place to play. Old Dominion is a very successful team on their home turf," said Maryland head coach Missy Meharg. "It wasn't pretty, but this game showed

In the ninth minute of the game, Infante came down the left side and slipped a lead pass through to Colleen Barbieri who slammed in the game's first goal, giving Maryland a 1-0 lead.

A stifling Maryland defense kept Old Dominion at bay for most of the first half. The Lady Monarchs' first shot came in the 29th minute off a penalty corner, but Tori Cano made the big stop to protect the Terps' one-goal lead.

ODU did not convert on a penalty corner and the Terps took advantage of ODU's missed opportunity as Infante weaved through the Lady Monarchs' defense and scored the unassisted goal just before the end of the first half in the 32nd minute.

Old Dominion found new life after the break, controlling much of the tempo. The Monarchs outshot the Terps, 4-3, in the period and out-cornered them, 4-1. In the 50th minute, ODU was awarded three-consecutive penalty corners. Cano saved the first two and the Maryland defense denied the third opportunity to keep the Monarchs off the board.

In the 59 minute, however, the Lady Monarchs broke through for a score. Old Dominion worked the ball around in the shooting circle after its fourth penalty corner of the period which led to Darcy Pinchbeck's first-career goal. The goal was the first allowed by the Terp defense in four games.

But in the final 11 minutes of the game, the Maryland defense clamped down even more and was able to hang on for the win.

The last meeting between the teams was a 4-1 ODU victory in the second round of the NCAA Tournament last year on the very same field. The only other regular-season win for the Terps at Foreman Field was a 1-0 decision in 1996.

The Terps dominated first-half action, outshooting Old Dominion 7-1 in the period and 10-5 for the game. Cano registered a season-high four saves.

Terrapin Invitational

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The No. 3 Maryland Terps opened its home schedule and the brand new Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex with a 7-0 thumping of Rutgers in the Terrapin Invitational. Amber McQuillan recorded the Terps' first-ever goal at the state-of-the-art facility and had a career-high two for the game. Sara Silvetti also notched two goals in the contest, tying a career best.

The Rutgers attack was no match for the Maryland defense who did not surrender a shot attempt or a penalty corner to the Scarlet Knights. The Terps have allowed just 10 shots and one goal in five games this season. The last time UMD did not allow shot or a penalty corner was almost a year ago on Sept. 15, 2002 in the 1-0 win over Boston University. The Maryland attack has also outscored its opponents 30-1 so far.

McQuillian notched her first goal of the season in the 18th minute, scoring on a pass from defender Paula Infante opening the floodgates and giving the Terps a 1-0 lead.

Maryland went ahead 3-0 on back-to-back penalty corner goals in the 24th and 31st minutes. Infante's tally in the 24th minute extended her scoring streak to five games.

The Terps took an overwhelming 4-0 advantage into the break as Meredith Long tipped in a high ball from Colleen Barbieri, scoring her first goal of the year.

Maryland wasted no time in the second half. From the starting whistle at midfield, Barbieri ran the ball the all the way down the left side of the field to the baseline and scored 19 seconds into the period to add to the UMD lead, 5-0.

The Terps tacked on two more goals on scores from McQuillan and Silvetti to round out the scoring.

Terrapin Invitational

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Third-ranked Maryland rolled passed Pacific, 7-0, to win the Terrapin Invitational at the Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex. UMD head coach Missy Meharg picked up her 250th-career victory as three different Terps tally two goals apiece in the triumph.

"The team played a very strong tournament and was very focused the whole time," said Meharg. "This was the attacking unit's best performance so far. They played good team offense and played with selflessness and moved well off the ball."

Maryland rattled off three-straight goals in the first 7:33 to put the game away. Jackie Ciconte got it going just 47 seconds into the game, followed by a goal from Colleen Barbieri and another Ciconte tally, making the score 3-0.

The Terps took a 4-0 lead over Pacific in the 14th minute when Maryland was awarded a penalty stroke and Paula Infante converted on the opportunity for the score. She has scored at least a goal in every game this season and two in half those matches.

Anja Boettcher put Maryland out in front, 5-0, on a penalty corner in the 51st minute. Emily Boyer recorded her first of two assists on the day on the play.

Barbieri's second goal was an unassisted tally in the 56th minute and Infante got her second almost two minutes later.

Maryland outshot the Tigers, 29-2, for the game and outcornered Pacific, 16-1. The Terps allowed just two shots and one penalty corner in two games en route to winning the Terrapin Invitational. UMD is 14-0 in seven years of the Terps' home tournament.

Pacific goalkeeper Gina Sadler had a strong showing in the cage, making 17 saves. Maryland goalkeepers Tori Cano and Christina Restivo split time in the net to post the team's fifth shutout of the season.

The program's all-time winningest coach, Meharg is in her 16th season as head coach of the Maryland field hockey team.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Jackie Ciconte and Anja Boettcher each tallied a pair of goals to lead the No. 3 Terrapin field hockey team to a 6-0 blanking of Drexel at the Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex. The win marks the sixth shutout of the season for Maryland as it extends its win steak to seven games.

Maryland took an early 2-0 lead less than nine minutes into the game. Lauren Powley knocked in her first-career goal, which would turn out to be the game winner, in the sixth minute. Boettcher gave the Terps a 2-0 cushion converting on the early penalty corner in the ninth minute.

Ciconte charged forward, scoring back-to-back goals 27 seconds apart in the 27th minute to put Maryland out in front at halftime, 4-0.

After the break, Brooke Johnson connected with Boettcher on the give-and-go as Boettcher tacked on Maryland's fifth goal of the game.

The Tigers' goalie Simon kept the game alive for Princeton, saving the first of what would be two penalty shots. But the second time around, the Tigers succumbed as Paula Infante knocked in the game-winning tally.

Simon ended the evening with 10 saves, while Maryland goalkeeper Tori Cano made four key stops.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - A game which featured two of the top three offenses in the nation and two of the top five defenses, No. 3 Maryland lost its first game of the season, falling to No. 1 Wake Forest, 3-1. Playing in front of a record crowd of over 1,000 fans at the Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex, the Terps snapped a 10-game win streak.

The defending national champion Deacons had few opportunities in the game, but capitalized on those chances. In the first half, Wake Forest attempted just four shots, but needed just two to take a 2-0 lead at the break. The first goal came early in the game. Maryland goalkeeper Tori Cano denied WFU's Kelly Dostal's shot, but the rebound landed at Katie Ackerman's feet in front of the cage where she knocked in the ball to give Wake Forest a 1-0 lead in the third minute.

In the 26th minute, Wake Forest worked the ball from the right side of the field to the left off the restart and Maeke Boreel connected with Ariel Meyers for the Deacon's second goal of the game.

Less than two minutes into the second period, Wake Forest struck again, jumping ahead, 3-0. The goal was an almost exact replay of the first, this time Kelly Dostal was standing in front of the net to take the shot off the rebound.

Maryland gave the Deacons a bit of their own medicine as Amber McQuillan put the Terps on the scoreboard, scoring off a rebound in the 66th minute to break up the shutout. However, the Terps ran out of time and Wake Forest walked away with the win.

As in most games this season, the Terrapins were dominant, outshooting UVA by a 24-5 margin. Cavalier goalkeeper Logan Carr, however, made 15 saves to keep the game close. Carr also faced 11 Maryland penalty corners while Virginia was awarded just two.

Maryland scored first on a Paula Infante goal. In the 15th minute, Infante worked her way to the right side of the shooting circle and blasted a shot into the back of the cage for her first of two tallies.

Five minutes later, Virginia's first shot of the match came in the form of a Katie Jo Gerfen goal. Gerfen's shot deflected off a Maryland defender and sailed into the back of the net to tie the score, 1-1.

With the game tied, the Terps regained the lead, 2-1, less than a minute into the second half, as ACC goal leader Infante notched her 15th marker of the season.

But Virginia would not go away despite its lack of opportunities. With the clock winding down, Mia Link slapped in a rebounded shot to tie the game for the second time, 2-2. Maryland closes out a successful nine-game homestand, going 8-1.

In the eighth minute, OSU defender Leticia Fragapane made an outstanding play making a defensive save on Paula Infante's breakaway shot, but Anja Boettcher knocked in the rebound to give Maryland a 1-0 lead.

The Terps jumped out to a 2-0 advantage in the 23rd minute when Amber McQuillan made her way around the baseline and passed to Ciconte who scored. Meanwhile, Ohio State's only shot attempt in the second half was turned away by goalkeeper Tori Cano for her only save of the day.

Maryland, again, peppered the opposing goalie, outshooting Virginia the previous day and the Buckeyes by a combined margin of 48-9. OSU goalkeeper Lindsay Williams stopped 13 of the Terps 24 shots.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - The No. 4 Terrapins cut No. 7 Old Dominion's late, second-half rally short and went on to defeat the Lady Monarchs, 3-2, at the Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex in front of a crowd of 556 fans. Anja Boettcher tallied two goals to lead the Terps to their first-ever regular-season series sweep versus ODU.

The Terps took the lead in the 10th minute and never looked back. Sara Silvetti made along pass from 30 yards out to Boettcher who was on the left post and Boettcher knocked it in for the score.

At 17:01, Jackie Ciconte stole a pass on the other side of half field and beat a defender down the right sideline. After beating another defender inside the scoring circle, she collided with goalkeeper Tina Walker and passed off to the left to a diving Meredith Long who swept the ball into the open net, giving Maryland a 2-0 lead.

Leading by a pair of goals, the Terps tacked on another with another well-executed play with Boettcher scoring her second of the game on a pass from Amber McQuillan in the 53rd minute.

Old Dominion put together a late surge, however, scoring a couple of goals at 59:35 and 61:25 to come within one tally. Dana Sensenig knocked in her own rebounded shot to score the Lady Monarchs first goal. Angie Loy then weaved through the defense and found the back of the net to make the score 3-2. But time ran out and the Terps successfully held off Old Dominion for the win.

Maryland was held to its lowest shot total of the season but still outshot ODU, 9-8. In her first-career start, Christina Restivo made a career-high five saves in the game.

It was only the second time since the series began in 1982 that Maryland has defeated ODU twice in one season. In 1995, the Terps won the regular-season matchup, 2-1, and also claimed a 1-0 victory in the NCAA Tournament. The Terps and the Lady Monarchs began the home-and-home series in 1999.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Fourth-ranked Maryland scored four second-half goals en route to a 4-0 victory over No. 15 Delaware at the Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex. The win is the second for the Terps in as many days over a top-15 opponent and the second against a Colonial Athletic Association team. Anja Boettcher tallied two goals in the game for the second time this weekend.

The game remained scoreless after the first 35 minutes. Maryland had two opportunities to take the lead in the 11th minute, but Delaware's Amanda Warrington and Megan Henry denied back-to-back Terp shots as the Blue Hen defenders made the stick save to send the game into halftime scoreless.

The Terps turned up the pressure in the second half. After outshooting the Blue Hens, 8-0, in the first period, Maryland peppered UD goalkeeper Megan Allen, who made eight saves in the game, with 17 shot attempts.

Colleen Barbieri broke up the scoreless tie with a goal in the 48th minute. Coming from the left side of the field, the slow-roller got passed UD's Allen and into the right side of the cage. That started the offensive rush.

At 56:04, Boettcher slammed a penalty corner shot into the back of the net, giving the Terps a 2-0 lead. Emily Boyer and Tiffany Marsh assisted on the play.

Just 37 seconds later, Jackie Ciconte added to the lead with Paula Infante recording the assist. Boettcher tallied her second of the day and fourth of the weekend on a rebounded shot after a penalty corner at 64:46.

The Terp defense did not allow a Delaware shot or a penalty corner in the game. It is the second time this season Maryland has accomplished that feat, shutting out Rutgers in both categories on Sept. 13. Maryland ended the game with 25 shots and 13 penalty corners.

Maryland goaltender Tori Cano posted her first shutout of the season and the team's seventh.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. - Maryland's Tiffany Marsh's first goal of the season could not have come at a better time. With the game tied at 2-2, Marsh scored the overtime tally to end the game, giving the third-ranked Terps a 3-2 win over No. 4 North Carolina at the Francis E. Henry Stadium in Chapel Hill, N.C.

An evenly matched game, the first shot of the contest did not come until the 15th minute on a North Carolina breakaway, but UMD goalkeeper Tori Cano made the big save to protect the scoreless tie.

In the 20th minute, the game took a brief turn in Maryland's favor. Jackie Ciconte intercepted a UNC pass outside the shooting circle, passed to Colleen Barbieri, who was behind the Tar Heel defense on the left side, and Barbieri shot the ball into the far right corner of the cage, giving Maryland a 1-0 lead.

North Carolina tied the game, however, forcing a penalty shot in at 27:36 which Kelsey Keeran converted on making the score 1-1.

Still 1-1 at the break, the teams continued to battle back-and-forth. The Terps regained the lead in the 45th minute when Maryland's Ciconte found herself wide open in front of the net and scored, as the ball rolled over the goalie's foot and into the back of the net.

The Tar Heels responded again almost 10 minutes later. Laree Beans intercepted a defensive clear on the baseline and scored to tie the game once more, 2-2.

The drama heightened when UNC drew its first penalty corner of the second half with no time remaining on the clock. Not surprisingly, Cano made the game-saving stop to force the extra perios. In the history of the series, this marked the 15th time in 44 meetings the UNC-Maryland matchup would be decided in overtime, including eight of the last 10 meetings.

It came down to the 76th minute when Lauren Powley's initial shot was saved by UNC goalkeeper Katy Tran. But Powley recovered the ball which did not make it out of the shooting circle, made the diving pass to Marsh who put it past the goalie for the score to end the game.

Maryland outshot the Heels 16-11, and had a slight edge on penalty corners, 7-6. Cano made career high six saves in the game, with one coming in the overtime to keep the game going. UNC's Tran ended the game with nine stops.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. - The fourth-seeded and third-ranked Maryland advanced to the semifinal game of the ACC Tournament after cruising to a 5-1 victory over fifth-seeded Virginia at the University Hall Turf Field. Five different Terps scored in the win.

Maryland outshot the Cavaliers, 22-7, to claim the easy win. The Terps scored three unanswered goals in a span of 2:37 to take a commanding 3-0 lead. Tiffany Marsh opened the floodgates, scoring on a rebound, 14 minutes into the game.

Close to two minutes later, Colleen Barbieri posted the Terps' second goal on a breakaway, followed by a unassisted Lauren Powley tally from the top of the circle. Barbieri's goal moves her into a tie for 10th place on Maryland's all-time career list. She has scored 42 goals in three seasons.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. - The third-ranked Maryland field hockey team fell to the top team in the nation, 4-1, in the semifinal game of the ACC Tournament in Charlottesville, Va. The Terps drop to 18-3 on the season while the Demon Deacons improved to 17-1.

Wake Forest took the game's first lead in the 15th minute and it would never look back. Maryland's Tori Cano saved a Deacon shot off of a penalty corner but junior Ariel Meyers was standing in front of the goal and knocked in the rebound to make the score, 1-0.

WFU added another goal late in the first half at 3:25 to go ahead of the Terps, 2-0, when Kristi Harshman scored her third goal on the year on a pass from Kelly Dostal. But Maryland responded, scoring 26 seconds later to cut into the lead. The Terps pushed the ball into the Wake Forest defensive end and, in a scramble in front of the net, sophomore All-ACC performer Jackie Ciconte banged the ball into the back of the cage for UMD's only goal.

Just as in the first half, tight defense allowed for few chances for both teams in the second period with the Deacs outshooting the Terps by just a 6-5 margin.

The score remained at 2-1 for most of the second half until Wake Forest' Maeke Boreel got off a shot from the right side into the far post, giving WFU a two-goal cushion with less than 13 minutes left to play in the match.

In the final minutes, the Terps threatened to close the gap, drawing a penalty corner and a one-on-one shot with the goalkeeper which Katie Ridd stopped. But Maryland's efforts fell short and Wake Forest's Kelly Dostal scored the empty-netter with just 40 seconds remaining in the game to seal the win.

Cano ended the game with a career-high tying six saves. Wake Forest's Ridd accounted for four stops. The Terps were outshot 10-6 in the game.

2nd Round

COLLEGE PARK, Md. - Third-seeded Maryland advanced to the national semifinals of the NCAA Tournament after defeating seventh-ranked Penn State, 5-0, in the second round. Five different players scored in the win as goalkeeper Tori Cano posted back-to-back shutouts over the weekend.

"Penn State is one of the top three athletic teams we have faced this year. [Today] was the best we have played this season," said Maryland head coach Missy Meharg. "Today [Maryland] played at a championship-caliber level of play."

Penn State came out strong, drawing the first penalty corner for either team less than three minutes into the game. After that, the Terps controlled the action for most of the rest of the game, scoring three goals on seven first-half shots, while limiting the Nittany Lions to just one in the period.

The Terps' first goal came in the sixth minute of play on a penalty corner. UMD's penalty corner opportunity was broken up andjunior Sara Silvetti passed off to Anja Boettcher on the recovery, who slammed the ball into the back of the cage for the eventual game winner. Two minutes later, Tiffany Marsh sailed a shot over Penn State goalkeeper Annie Zinkavich's head into the high left corner, giving Maryland 2-0 lead.

The Terps put the game away before the break, scoring again in the 20th minute when Colleen Barbieri worked her way through the midfield, setting herself up for a wide-open shot at the top of the circle.

Ahead 3-0, the Terps added two more goals late in the second period to blow the game wide open. Meredith Long and Paula Infante both tallied goals on assists from Jackie Ciconte and Marsh, respectively.

"We proved today we can step it up to the next level," said Barbieri of the team's play.

The Maryland defense kept PSU to its lowest shot total of the season, allowing just four, while the Terps attempted 13. Both teams drew four penalty corners apiece. Cano ended the game with two saves, helping the Terps to their 10th shutout of the year. PSU's Zinkavich notched four saves.

Advancing to play Duke in the national semifinal in Amherst, Mass., the Terps have appeared in the national semifinal nine times (once in the AIAW Championships in 1979), eight times in the NCAA Tournament. Maryland has won the NCAA crown three times (1987, 1993, 1999).

Final Four

AMHERST, Mass. - The third-seeded Maryland field hockey team fell to second-seeded Duke, 4-2, in the NCAA Championship semifinals at Garber Field on the campus of the University of Massachusetts. Colleen Barbieri scored both Terrapin goals as the team's comeback fell short.

The first half was all Duke, taking an early 2-0 lead less than three minutes into the game. The Blue Devils drew their first penalty corner less than two minutes into the match. Gracie Sorbello netted her 22nd tally of the season on a pass from Johanna Bischof on the penalty corner opportunity.

The Blue Devils added another goal one minute later. Katie Grant ran down a ball, which appeared to be going out of bounds. She got around a Maryland defender and had a 1-v-1 with the goalie and scored.

Duke jumped ahead 3-0 on a 2-v-1 fastbreak which Chrissie Murphy finished off for the goal.

Coming out of a Maryland timeout, the Terps seemed to collect themselves and played better team field hockey, taking both their shots in the final 13 minutes of the half. However, Duke's Christy Morgan saved one opportunity and the other went wide, as the Blue Devils held on for the 3-0 lead at the break.

The Terps took better control of the tempo in the second half, with their first of two penalty corners coming in the 42nd minute. The Maryland defense did not give up a penalty corner to Duke in the last half.

Barbieri got the Terps on the scoreboard with 14:09 remaining in the contest, taking a diving backhanded shot on the fastbreak off the restart.

Duke responded. A scramble in front of the Maryland net put the Blue Devils back up by three goals, 4-1, at 63:51.

The Terps came right back down the field and cut the lead the lead back down to two, 4-2, just over a minute later. Amber McQuillan saved a ball from going out of bounds on the end line, passed off to Barbieri who was standing in front of the net and Barbieri knocked it in for the goal at 64:53.

The late Maryland charge was too late, however, as the Blue Devils were able to hold off the Terps in the final five minutes to win the game.

Maryland ends the season with a 20-4 record, making their ninth trip to the national semifinal. Its' only four losses of the season have come against the NCAA finalists Duke and Wake Forest.

MARYLAND
"Strive for clarity, but accept and understand ambiguity."
- That phrase captures one way in which an educated person approaches the world and its challenges. Students who graduate from the University of Maryland have been exposed to the tools that allow them to put that perspective to work. Imparting such a perspective may be an ambitious project for undergraduate education, but to aim for anything less would be unworthy of a great university's goals for its students. Thirteen years ago, Promises to Keep, a plan for undergraduate education at Maryland, articulated those goals so eloquently we repeat them here.
Undergraduate education at Maryland "aims to provide students with a sense of identity and purpose, a concern for others, a sense of responsibility for the quality of life around them, a continuing eagerness for knowledge and understanding, and a foundation for a lifetime of personal enrichment."
As we learn with and from one another, we try to "develop human values," "celebrate tolerance and fairness," "contribute to the social conscience," "monitor and assess private and collective assumptions," and "recognize the glory, tragedy and humor of the human condition." Your years at the University of Maryland can provide you with all the tools you need to accomplish these goals. Students here are "educated to be able to read with perception and pleasure, write and speak with clarity and verve, handle numbers and computation proficiently, reason mathematically, generate clear questions and find probable arguments, reach substantiated conclusions and accept ambiguity."
And we also hope you enjoy the journey.

University of Maryland

THE CAMPUS

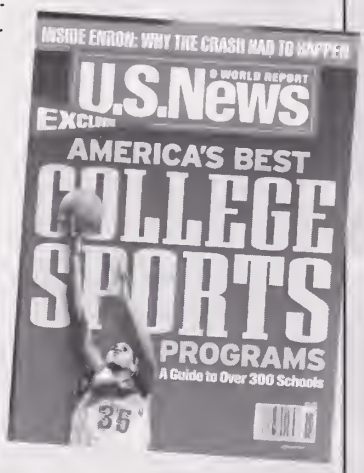
By virtually every measure of quality, the University of Maryland has gained national recognition as one of the fastest-rising comprehensive research institutions in the country. The momentum of recent years has poised the university to move it into the top ranks of higher education and take leadership in shaping the research university of the 21st century.

The university has enjoyed a decade of momentum in all of the areas that affect quality. The average high school GPA of entering students has zoomed from 3.01 to nearly 3.90, and the average SATs are now more than 1270. The student body is a model of diversity, with minorities making up more than 32 percent of all students, and at least one graduate and undergraduate student from every state in the nation.

The university has 67 graduate and undergraduate programs ranked in the Top 25 by U.S. News and World Report, up from just one program in 1991.

Sponsored research and outreach has nearly tripled in the same 10-year period, exceeding $350 million last year. Private giving also has increased, and the university last year concluded its first campaign by topping its $350 million goal by more than $100 million. Alumni Association membership has been growing at an average rate of 10 percent a year since 1992.

One of the largest research universities in the United States, Fall 2002 enrollment was 25,240 undergraduate and 9,561 graduate students. There are 94 undergraduate programs, 89 master's programs, 70 doctoral programs and one first professional degree program. More than 100 centers and institutes are engaged in research and outreach.



Faculty at the University of Maryland, in all fields of knowledge, are engaged at the highest levels of national and international concern. The university's location near the center of federal policy-making and international political and economic activity enables it to play an active role in research and analysis of public policy.

Maryland is one of 30 public universities in the prestigious 63-member Association of American Universities and the only public institution in the Maryland-D.C. area with membership in the nation's most distinguished honor society, Phi Beta Kappa.

LIBRARIES

Seven libraries make up the University of Maryland library system: McKeldin (main) Library, Architecture Library, Art Library, Engineering and Physical Sciences Library, Hornbake Library, Performing Arts Library and White Memorial (Chemistry) Library.

These libraries constitute the largest university research library institution in the Washington metropolitan area, providing vital resources to researchers, visiting scholars, and businesses throughout the region. The libraries' holdings include more than 2.5 million volumes, 24,000 subscriptions to periodicals and nearly 5 million items available in microfilm format.

RESEARCH

Opportunities for conducting research abound at the University of Maryland, College Park, and in the surrounding area, both for faculty to advance their own expertise and bring their insights into the classroom, and for students to begin their exploration of their unique interests with practical experience. On campus, special facilities and a number of organized research centers, bureaus and institutes promote the acquisition and analysis of new knowledge in the arts, sciences and applied fields.

The university's enviable location – just nine miles from downtown Washington, D.C., and approximately 30 miles from both Baltimore and Annapolis – enhances the research of its faculty and students by providing access to some of the finest libraries and research centers in the country.

SERVICE

Programs of public service are central to the overall mission of the university. The philosophy is reflected in the wide array of programs and initiatives that benefit the state's business, agriculture and education communities.

With more than 90 high-technology firms in the three-county area of Montgomery, Prince George's and Frederick counties, the university has found abundant opportunity to extend its business and technology outreach programs to the region. Many of these programs are part of the Engineering Research Center, which operates the Technology Advancement Program and the Maryland Industrial Partnerships, programs designed to provide Maryland entrepreneurs and small businesses with research facilities, technical assistance, administrative support and access to technology that will advance their economic base.

The Institute for Systems Research has formed partnerships with major corporations, including Lockheed Martin, Westinghouse, BF Goodrich, Hughes Aircraft and Dupont to apply advanced systems research to solving industry problems in the fields of communications, manufacturing, controls and robotics.

The university last year opened the Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center, with its six state-of-the art performance halls, which has quickly become a center of cultural programming in the Washington metropolitan area. The university also boasts four art galleries and a broad range of public art throughout the beautiful campus. Additionally intercollegiate, club and intramural sports provide students of all levels an opportunity to participate as spectators or athletes.

UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT
CALIFORNIA '51
SEVENTH YEAR AT MARYLAND

When C. D. "Dan" Mote Jr. became the 19th president of the University of Maryland on Sept. 1, 1998, he proclaimed it a university "on the move." Five years later, under his guidance, Maryland continues to move – at an ever-accelerating rate – on the field, in the classroom, in the community and in the world.

Leading a great university is a big job, but it's a role that Mote is accustomed to, having spent his entire academic career at the University of California at Berkeley, where he earned all his degrees, chaired one of the nation's top-ranked departments of Mechanical Engineering, and eventually became Vice Chancellor for University Relations before coming to Maryland.

The University of Maryland is the State of Maryland's most important asset, says Mote: "The future of the state depends on this university."

As president, Mote is committed to making that asset even greater by nourishing a culture of excellence and civility across the campus, providing the highest quality education for students, strengthening the university's connections with its various stakeholders, building partnerships with State and national corporations and federal agencies and achieving distinction as an institution where discovery takes place every day and everywhere.

The university's progress can be seen in every area, from its nationally-ranked programs to its growing range of partnerships to its world-class, state-of-the-art facilities.

QUALITY PROGRAMS

Over the past decade, the quality of Maryland's programs has grown by leaps and bounds. In 2003, the University of Maryland moved up to 18th place among public universities in U.S. News & World Report rankings, the first time it has broken into the top 20 in its steady climb to distinction. We currently have 49 graduate and undergraduate programs and units ranked in the top 15 by U.S. News & World Report, up from 5 eight years ago.

While our academic successes have spread across the board, the university has emerged as a true powerhouse in business, computer science, earth sciences, engineering, environmental policy, education and journalism. Maryland is one of only 10 public and private universities that have their programs in computer science, mathematics, physics, and engineering each ranked in the top 20, and the Robert H. Smith School of Business is one of 6 nationally ranked in both the top 10 Business Faculty in Teaching and the top 10 Business Faculty in Research.

FACULTY STATURE

With the addition during Mote's third year of a Nobel Laureate in Physics and three more Pulitzer Prize winners (to join three already on the faculty), Maryland continues to attract the best faculty available. This past year a faculty member was the recipient of the Japan Prize, an award given by the Japanese government in technology that is equivalent to the Nobel prizes. More than 30 of our faculty are members of the national academies, the highest professional recognition attainable.

Experts on the Maryland faculty are regularly sought by the news media for their views on a wide variety of issues, including political events, international affairs, social trends, economics, the environment, science and technology.

TALENTED STUDENTS

Over the past 10 years, it has become a cliché to announce that each year's new freshman class is the most talented ever. The average GPA of entering students in fall 2003 is 3.9, while the average SAT score is nearly 1,300.

Not surprisingly, the number of students enrolling in honors and other special programs has also skyrocketed in recent years. Our extremely popular living-learning programs, which bring together students with similar academic interests in a residential setting, were ranked 3rd in the country in the latest U.S. News & World Report. In the last academic year, over 6,000 students enrolled in such programs as Gemstone, College Park Scholars, and the Hinman CEO Entrepreneurship Program.

ATHLETIC EXCELLENCE

Mote sees athletics as an integral part of the university experience. Indeed athletic success more often than not reflects academic success, he notes. For example, all four of the teams that played in the 2002 NCAA basketball Final Four, including Maryland, are members of the prestigious Association of American Universities, the organization that comprises the leading research and academic universities in North America. "That's no accident," Mote says. "Institutions that are committed to excellence tend to be excellent in every endeavor. Our successes in basketball, lacrosse and other sports reflects our culture of quality as much as our successes in engineering, business, education and journalism."

Deborah A. Yow

Director of Athletics
11th Year at Maryland
Elon '74

Deborah A. Yow is in the 11th year of her outstanding tenure as director of athletics at the University of Maryland, a tenure that has seen unprecedented success and achievement in Maryland athletics. Each year has brought about steady and continued improvement. In Yow's 10 years at Maryland, the Terrapins have won a remarkable nine NCAA national championships and graduated its student-athletes at an enviable rate as Maryland athletics has soared to sustained new heights.

The comprehensive success of Terrapin athletics under Debbie Yow's leadership is a clear and compelling testimony of her values of excellence, teamwork and accountability.

Likewise, her election to the presidency of the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics three years ago is an indication of the wide respect with which she is regarded among its 6,100 members representing 1,600 colleges in the U.S. and Canada. She was singled out by Street and Smith Sports Business Journal as one of the leading administrators in the U.S. and she received the Carl Maddox Sport Management Award presented by the United States Sports Academy for excellence in athletics administration. Yow was selected to serve on the U.S. Department of Education's Commission on Opportunities in Athletics to review the status of Federal Title IX regulations. She has served as the chair of the Atlantic Coast Conference Committee on Television for 2003 through 2004. The committee, comprised of the ACC's athletics directors, is charged with overseeing the league's TV contracts and dealing with issues related to television. Yow led the committee during the recent, very successful renegotiation of comprehensive, multiyear ACC football and basketball contracts with ABC, ESPN, ESPN2 and syndication entities. Additionally, she has represented intercollegiate athletics with presentations in a number of prominent settings such as the Harvard University School of Law conference on "Shaping the Future of Collegiate Athletics" and the Street and Smith Sports Business Journal national forum on the direction of intercollegiate athletics. She was also recently inducted into the State of Maryland Women's Hall of Fame.

Yow, who has served on the NCAA Management Council and the NCAA Division I Budget Committee, is a strong and steady voice on behalf of intercollegiate athletics in America.

Since taking over as AD at Maryland in 1994, she and her staff have:

• Transformed Terrapin athletics into a responsive, goal-oriented organization.

• Balanced all 10 of the department's annual budgets (the first balanced budgets in the 10 years prior to her arrival). The budget has now reached $42 million annually and the sizable prior accumulated operating debt has been eradicated.

• Greatly enhanced the academic support services provided for student-athletes, with an enviable exhausted eligibility graduation rate of approximately 85 percent for student athletes at Maryland

• Led the Terrapins to a national all-sports ranking in the top six percent of all NCAA Division I institutions.

• Significantly expanded marketing and fund-raising efforts on behalf of Terrapin athletics. As a result, private gifts to athletics have increased over 350 percent and corporate sponsorship revenues have increased by over 300 percent during her tenure at Maryland.

• Implemented a strategic management model.

• Developed a comprehensive Internet strategy with management, marketing and fund-raising applications.

• Significantly improved customer care in every area of Maryland athletics.

The most recent achievements of Maryland athletics are exceptional:

• Selected by U.S. News & World Report as one of the Top 20 athletic programs in the nation (for overall quality and competitive excellence).

• In football, won the 2002 Atlantic Coast Conference championship and played in the 2002 Orange Bowl, followed this with an 11-win season and a 30-3 victory over the University of Tennessee in the Peach Bowl, followed by a 10-win season and a 41-7 win over West Virginia in the Gator Bowl on New Year's Day 2004. Maryland is one of only five NCAA Division I football teams to have won 10 or more games in the each of the past three seasons.

• In men's basketball, the Terps won the Atlantic Coast Conference over Duke in the Championship Game in 2004 and won the NCAA National Championship in 2002.

• In 2003-04, 12 Maryland teams competed in NCAA postseason play. This placed Maryland in the Top 25 programs in the nation in the prestigious USSA Directors Cup rankings.

Additionally, Maryland is one of only six universities to win a National Championship in both basketball and football (UCLA, Michigan, Michigan State, Syracuse, Ohio State and Maryland).

• Hired the Associated Press National Coach of the Year, Brenda Frese, as the new women's basketball coach. In her second season at the helm, in 2003-04, her team drew 13,250 to a regular-season game and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

• Hired Dave Cottle, the third-winningest active men's lacrosse coach in the U.S., who guided his team to the NCAA Final Four in his second year.

• Field Hockey played for the National Championship in 2001 and continues to be a Final Four team.

• Women's Lacrosse has continued its winning ways and has won seven consecutive national championships through 2001 with additional Final Four appearances.

• Enhancing football facilities significantly with team house, stadium and practice field upgrades.

• Moved into the new $125 million Comcast Center, housing athletic department offices and seating for 18,000 fans for basketball and other events.

• The productivity, morale, and the competitive and academic achievement of Terrapin athletics are exceptional and continue to gain momentum.

Regarding the many achievements of Terrapin athletics over the past 10 years, Yow says, "We are pleased, but we are not satisfied... our vision is to be one of the top 10 programs in the nation consistently... we see no reason to settle for less."

Yow is known for her goal-oriented and proactive management style. She consistently inspires and challenges those around her to "raise our sights and sharpen our tools... to work hard and work smart...to recognize that our only limitations are those that we place upon ourselves."

As a manager and a leader, she clearly models these principles. She is the only known current AD in NCAA Division I who has hired both the National Coach of the Year in football (while at Maryland) and the National Coach of the Year in men's basketball (while at Saint Louis University). Yow is known as "a coach's AD," while also being highly organized and a strategic and proactive leader and administrator. Quite simply, Debbie Yow personifies the relational and management dynamics that are necessary to be an excellent administrator.

A successful former coach at the University of Kentucky and University of Florida, she moved into athletics administration at the University of Florida and the University of North Carolina, Greensboro, followed by a successful tenure as AD at Saint Louis University.

She has authored numerous articles and books on athletics management and human behavior, and is a respected leader in intercollegiate athletics in the United States.

Reflecting on the status of the Terrapin football program, Maryland's Director of Athletics points out, "Our 2001 ACC Championship and three consecutive major bowls are an important part of our emergence as a preeminent national football program. Our football coaches care greatly about their players and their welfare. They emphasize the importance of going to class, being good students and getting their college degree. Parents of our football players understand that these young men are in good hands with this wonderful staff of coaches. Our young men in Terrapin football have a full range of support in training, academics and career guidance from our coaches and staff of caring specialists. We are winning in the classroom and on the football field."

Summing up the entire athletics program, our athletics director recently stated, "We have the finest student-athletes, coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperative spirit that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets, our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships, and the M Club members who serve and give liberally. We are also blessed with a terrific President, Dr. Dan Mote, who has fostered a mindset of excellence across our institution. He is a strong and balanced advocate for what he calls the three A's of the University - Academics, the Arts and Athletics. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all of our success... and the basis for our bright future. It's a great time to be a Terp."

Field Hockey Sport Supervisor

Troy Tucker

ASSOC. ATHLETIC DIRECTOR/ADMINISTRATION
FIRST YEAR AT MARYLAND • GENESEO '91

Troy Tucker is in his first year at Maryland as an Associate Athletics Director after spending the last five years as a Director of Athletics at Herkimer County Community College.

During his tenure at Herkimer from 1999-2004, Tucker operated the 21-sport, nationally competitive program with a balanced budget. He also oversaw the renovations of nine different facilities. Under Tucker's direction, Herkimer earned three-consecutive top-10 finishes in the Region III Director's Cup and finished 2003-04 ranked fifth among junior college athletic programs in the nation by NATYCAA Pepsi Cup. Three teams won five NJCAA National Championships and four won 13 regional titles. His teams also earned eight NJCAA Academic Team of the Year awards with the women's swimming & diving squad garnering the honor three times.

Prior to his tenure at Herkimer, Tucker was the Director of Athletics at D'Youville College in Buffalo, N.Y., from 1996-99. While there, he headed the expansion of the athletics program from three to 11 teams and was named National Athletic Director of the Year in 1998. At his arrival, Tucker oversaw the department's move to NCAA Division III status.

While serving as Director of Athletics at Herkimer, Tucker was also the head men's basketball coach for four seasons before becoming an Associate Dean in his final year. During the 2000-01 campaign, he was named Coach of the Year after his squad qualified for the Region III Championship for the first time in seven years, winning its first-round game.

A native of Scio, N.Y., Tucker began his collegiate career as an administrator at Jamestown-Olean Community College where he served from 1992-96. During his time there, he helped initiate the college's athletic programs and was also the Jaguars' head men's basketball coach for a year.

Tucker is a 1991 graduate of Geneseo where he earned a bachelor of science in business. In 1992, he earned his master's from Springfield in athletics administration. Tucker and his wife, Rhonda, have a son, Griffin, and a daughter, Haley.

Academic Support & Career Development

The University of Maryland is committed to providing the highest quality education to all of its students. The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to provide student-athletes excellent opportunities to participate in an intercollegiate athletics program of the highest quality, with the result that their athletics participation becomes an integral and valued component of their total educational experience at the university.

Terrapin student-athletes will find that the same hard work and discipline that has earned them success in athletics competition is also required in the classroom. Balancing the significant time demands and responsibilities required to be a successful student-athlete at the highest collegiate level is no small task. Therefore, as a result of their commitment to representing the university through athletics, Terrapin student-athletes are able to utilize support programs designed to meet their specific needs.

Led by associate athletics director Robert Koonce, the mission of the Academic Support and Career Development Unit (ASCDU) is to provide quality developmental programs and need-based services that will enhance academic progress, facilitate career development, and encourage the psychosocial growth of all UM student-athletes. Koonce (above) works with the field hockey team.

The Gossett Academic Support and Career Development Center for Terrapin student-athletes, named for long-time Terp supporters Barry and Mary Gossett, is located in the Comcast Center. It features a study center that includes 25 desktop computers, a tutoring center, a classroom, a CHAMPS/Life Skills resource room and individual offices for six professional academic counselors, a director of enrichment programs, an assistant program coordinator and two graduate assistants. In addition, a new academic wing was added to the Gossett football team house last Fall. It features offices for two counselors, a program assistant and the learning specialist; as well as a quiet study area, 29-desk computer lab, classroom, tutor rooms and classroom/lab for the individualized learning program.

Academic courses, programs and services offered by ASCDU include the following:

- Student-athlete orientation
- Academic counseling
- NCAA academic eligibility monitoring
- Academic enrichment and career development presentations and workshops
- Accredited tutorial support
- Individualized learning program
- EDCP 108-K (College learning strategies and skills)
- EDCP 108-M (Math learning strategies and skills)
- UNIV 100 (First-year transitions to the university)

CAREER NETWORKING NIGHT

Because career development is an ongoing process, ASCDU provides a variety of programs for student-athletes throughout the year. Professional assistance with resume-writing, interviewing skills, graduate school search and job search is readily available to all student-athletes. During the spring semester ASCDU hosts the Career Networking Night, where student-athletes can learn about career interests and career planning. Unlike typical "job fairs," the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen areas of interest. Employers at the Career Networking Night recognize the marketable qualities student-athletes have gained through athletic participation. Student-athletes learn about opportunities for internships and full-time jobs.

STUDENT-ATHLETE ADVISORY COUNCIL

The Student-Athlete Advisory Council (S.A.A.C.) plays an important role in the Department of Intercollegiate Athletics. It consists of two representatives from each varsity sport and meets on a regular basis with representatives from the athletic administration. The S.A.A.C. mission is to enhance the total student-athlete experience by developing leadership skills, promoting student-athlete welfare and fostering a positive student-athlete image on the Maryland campus, local area and nationally.

CHAMPS/LIFE SKILLS PROGRAMS

ASCDU houses the NCAA's (National Collegiate Athletic Association) Challenging Athletes' Minds for Personal Success (C.H.A.M.P.S.) Life Skills Program. The ASCDU staff, in collaboration with various other Department of Intercollegiate Athletics' units and campus resources, strives to provide a systematic personal development program designed to reach each student-athlete based on his or her individual needs. The focus of the program is on the individual academically, athletically and emotionally, and on the changing needs and skills of that individual in the years during college and after graduation. The menu of presentations, workshops and seminars is a

Strength & Conditioning

Collegiate field hockey has evolved to the point where total physical preparation is necessary to successfully compete on the Division I level. It has become extremely important to strength and conditioning coach Barry Kagan (right) that all of the Terrapin athletes are prepared through training to maximize their athletic development in terms of strength and conditioning. The high level of dedication by the members of the field hockey team has brought about spectacular achievements in the weight room and in competition.

The objective of the strength and conditioning program for field hockey is based on the enhancement of performance as well as the prevention of injuries. White makes every attempt to accommodate the different training needs of each individual athlete.

The preparation of a student-athlete to compete in field hockey goes beyond strength and power training in the weight room. Speed improvement, flexibility, plyometrics, nutrition, agility and conditioning are also important ingredients in the preparation of the volleyball team here at Maryland. The strength and conditioning staff puts a great emphasis on improving the quickness of the Terps through increased mechanical efficiency and the improvement of acceleration of maximum velocity.

Media Information

MEDIA GUIDELINES

Credentials: Media and photographer credentials for events at Maryland's Field Hockey & Lacrosse Complex may be obtained by working press, radio and television by writing or calling Dustin Hockensmith in the Maryland Athletic Media Relations Office, 2725 Comcast Center, College Park, MD 20741-0295. All requests should be submitted at least 48 hours prior to the event by phoning the Media Relations Office at (301) 314-7063. Since space is limited, accommodations are on a priority basis: daily newspapers and wire services, originating radio and television stations, national weekly or monthly publications, electronic media outlets, local and regional television crews. Priority is granted to members of the media who cover Maryland athletics on a regular basis, and to visiting media members. Photo passes will be issued only to accredited photographers on assignment.

Photography Policy: The Media Relations Office reserves the rights to revoke any photo credentials if the following standards are not upheld: all photographers must remain off the endlines, stay out of bench areas and remain at least five yards away from bench areas.

Services: The Media Relations Office will provide complete statistics at the conclusion of every home game. Programs containing rosters and event notes on each team will be provided for the working media.

Fax Machine: The Media Relations Office has one facsimile machine, located in Room 2725 of Comcast Center. The fax number is (301) 314-9094.

Scores on your cell phone: Maryland fans can now get score updates sent directly to their cell phones! Just go to any schedule page at www.umterps.com to sign up for the service.

Terps on the Web: For up-to-date game stories, statistics, schedules and results, and other Maryland athletic department information, please locate www. umterps.com on the Internet.
